week of practice."

Anselmo, who was the coach of the Ludlow junior varsity A team for the past nine years, takes over the varsity coaching duties from Kate Marino, who decided to step down because of personal reasons.

"It has been a little different not having coach Marino on the field during the first week of practice, but I really don't think it has been a very difficult adjustment for the players to make," Anselmo said. "I do have a very good coaching staff and they're going to help me out a lot this season."

Meaghan McCarthy, who coached the Lady Lions junior varsity B team in 2016, has replaced Anselmo as the junior varsity A coach. She was also the Lady Lions starting goalkeeper a couple of years ago.

Leah Cook, who's a history teacher at the high school, is the new assistant coach for the girls varsity soccer team. She replaced Natalie Gebo, who also decided to leave the program at the end of last season due to personal reasons.

"Coach Cook is a person the players can speak with during the school day. I'm very glad that she's a member of my coaching staff," said Anselmo, who runs his own business. "Coach Marino is also a teacher at the high school and her door was always opened to the players."

The other members of the Lady Lions coaching staff are Kire Trajkavski, who played college soccer at UMass, Jason Weigel, and Jason Carrington.

The Lady Lions, who finished the 2016 campaign with a 14-5-2 overall record, lost 1-0 (4-3) in a penalty shootout to Coombs Division rival and top-seeded West Springfield in the Western Mass. finals last November. In 2015, the Lady Lions also lost in the finals against league rival Minnechaug, 1-0, on a goal in the final seconds of regulation time.

Ludlow was scheduled to begin the 2017 regular season with a non-league match at Amherst on Tuesday afternoon. They're also slated to make a short bus trip to Wilbraham to face the Minnechaug Lady Falcons on Thursday night.

"We've faced Minnechaug many times in the past and I'm friends with coach (Nundi) Goncalves," Anselmo said. "I know how his team is going to play and he already knows how we play. I'm very glad that we'll have the opportunity to play at least one game before facing them."

After playing another road match against Central Catholic High School of Lawrence on Saturday afternoon, the Lady Lions will finally play their home opener against East Longmeadow on Sept. 11.

"One of the things that the Athletic Department is trying to do is this year is to get more athletes to attend other team's games," Anselmo said. "For example, the members of my team might attend a home football game on a Friday night or a home boys soccer match. Every team deserves to have the support of the student body. It also helps improve school spirit."

Just like the boys varsity soccer team, the Lady Lions are scheduled to play three matches at historic Lusitano Stadium this fall. Their first game at the stadium will take place against Longmeadow on Sept. 29. They'll then be facing Pittsfield at 11am on Columbus Day and Minnechaug at 6:30 p.m. on Oct. 18.

"The girls loved playing games at the stadium last year and we'll be playing three more games there this year," Anselmo said. "I wouldn't like to play all of our home games at the stadium because I still like playing soccer on a grass field. We didn't have any turf fields when I was growing up in Ludlow."

Unlike previous seasons, the captains of the girls' varsity soccer team weren't selected until before the first game of the regular season.

"All of the athletic teams at the high school aren't allowed to select their captains until right before they play their first game of the regular season," Anselmo said. "In the past, the players have voted for captains at the end of the previous regular season. Now, everyone will have the opportunity to see who the team leaders are before the captains are chosen. I think it's a good way of doing it."

The Lady Lions, who lost twelve players to graduation, had three captains last year. Anselmo only wants to have two captains this season.

who's a midfielder.

"All of our returning varsity players have been working very well together," Anselmo said. "We'll also have a couple of first-year members of the varsity soccer team, who are very talented soccer players."

One of the Lady Lions first-year varsity players is sophomore forward Bailey Edwards, who was a member of the J.V. A team a year ago.

"Bailey scored 18 goals last season and she was the leading scorer of the junior varsity A team," Anselmo said. "We're expecting her and Kaitlyn Stephenson to score a lot of the goals for the varsity team this year."

The duo of Rooney and senior Julia Anecchiarico, who's the starting pitcher for the Lady Lions varsity softball team, will most likely be splitting playing time at the goalkeeper's position for the varsity team this fall.

The Lady Lions are hoping to still be playing meaningful soccer games in the middle of November once again this year.
