DJ Luis gets seniors dancing to the music during the Summer Carnival at RiverMills Senior Center.

everyone's happy, everyone's enjoying themselves and everyone's company, and we just love to be able to do this for seniors," Conroy said.

Alex Martin, director of community relations for RiverMills Assisted Living, was one of the vendors, providing bean bag toss and air hockey games with information on the assisted living facility.

"We thought it would be a fun event to meet other elders in the area and try to connect them into our building and see if they wanted to come by, take a look at it and different things like that," Martin said.

Martin said events like the carnival help the facility be involved in seniors' lives and support the community.

"Being around the Chicopee natives is always fun, so we're excited to be part of it and in the area," Martin said.

Martin added he enjoys meeting the seniors.

"For me, it's connecting with new people. So every day I just meet new people. I get to figure out what needs they have, how we can help those needs and really just connecting with the community as well to try and make sure that we have the right community and atmosphere for people," Martin said.

Allison Grammo, community sales manager for Bluebird Estates in East

Longmeadow, is a Chicopee native and provided ring toss games at her booth.

"We're out here trying to get involved in the community and give back as much as we can," Grammo said.

Grammo also enjoys working with seniors.

"I love working with seniors. They have such rich life histories. It's just wonderful to be able to interact with them every day and give back to them. It's just wonderful," Grammo said.

center for years and used to drive for it too.

Scott enjoyed the Summer Carnival, having visited the fire department tent for a badge, doing face painting and getting balloons.

"I love RiverMills because it's in Chicopee and I love Chicopee," Scott said. "The people are great."

Scott encourages residents to support the senior center, explaining she looks forward to more summer programming.

"I think they should come and enjoy the senior center because there's a lot, like the music, for instance. DJ Luis is the best. Luis comes and he gets everybody up to dance," Scott said. "He's a lot of fun."

Conroy encourages residents to check out the newsletters and look online for upcoming events, including the Summer Concert Series beginning July 12.

Tickets went on sale June 20.

"It's a community that we have for 55 and older and it's a great place to meet new friends and just to come socialize and participate," Conroy said.
