

Obituary

Robert W. Carroll, 94

HARDWICK – Robert W. Carroll, of Hardwick, died on Monday, Feb. 13, 2023, at the age of 94.

He leaves his two sons, Robert and his wife Marlene, William and his wife Mary; three grandchildren, Melissa O'Connor and her husband Casey, Edward Carroll, Abaigeal Carroll; one great-grandchild, Raymond O'Connor; and a sister Anne Tooley of Seattle, Washington.

Robert was predeceased by the love of his life, Adeline H. (Hubacz) Carroll in 2015, and two brothers, John and Roger.

Bob was born in Hardwick, the son of the late Patrick and Esther Carroll.

Bob and Addie maintained Bob's family home in town as a weekend home until retiring there full time in the 1980s. Bob lived independently in his lifelong home in Hardwick up until a week before his passing.

Bob's passions were gardening with Addie, fishing in the Quabbin Reservoir, and hunting with the many Brittany Spaniels - all named Ginger - that he raised and trained.

In his early days, Bob played saxophone in a local band, and his bandmates became lifelong friends.

Bob and Addie made the perfect couple. They complemented each other in so many ways.

This was perhaps most evident to family and friends during annual holiday gatherings and "Open House" parties.

Bob had an extensive vegetable garden and orchard, and grew produce for the family and neighborhood. One of his prized specialties was homemade horseradish that could knock your socks off.

Addie canned, preserved, and baked the fruit and vegetables using her many talents. The harvest was accompanied by game birds, venison, and local lake trout.

Bob was a man of principle with a deep thoughtfulness and love for his family. Bob and Addie's home was always open to their many nieces, nephews and grandnieces and nephews. Bob graduated from Hardwick High School and served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. After the Navy, Bob lived in Chicago where he attended DeVry University.

He served as a DJ on a local radio show. He then moved back to Hardwick and started a television and antenna business in the early days of TV.

Bob went to work for IBM during the early years of mainframe computing, and worked with NASA, Lincoln Labs, and Polaroid among others. He retired from IBM after almost 30 years.

Bob was a brother Mason for 53 years at the Alpha Lodge A.F. & A.M. Framingham.

Friends and family were invited to attend the funeral for Bob on Wednesday, Feb. 22, 2023, at 11 a.m. in Pillsbury Funeral Home 96 South Barre Road, Barre. A calling hour was held from 9:45-10:45 a.m. prior to the service in the funeral home.

Burial followed in Hardwick Center Cemetery in Hardwick.

white cast to the skin in the affected area with the most susceptible body parts being fingers, toes, ear lobes, and the nose.

He suggests warming the frozen part to room temperature by immersing it in warm (not hot) water to avoid burns to the skin. Frozen tissue is fragile and can be damaged easily.

Also, avoid warming with high heat from radiators, fireplaces or stoves and avoid rubbing or breaking blisters.

If in doubt about possible frostbite, consult your physician or seek emergency treatment.

As for cardiovascular issues, heart attacks are more prevalent during the winter months, when cold weather can place a strain on your heart.

"What happens is that your arteries tend to tighten when you are out in the cold, your blood pressure goes up, and this can overload your heart. This could lead to a heart attack. If you have previously suffered a heart attack or have heart disease, you should avoid shoveling snow and other types of outdoor exertion, particularly if you are out of shape and haven't been exercising regularly. Let someone else do it, like a nephew or neighbor. And, be sure to bundle up when going out into the cold," said Dr. Quinn Pack, a preventive cardiologist in the Baystate Heart & Vascular Program.

Additional tips to keep you warm and safe from cold stress this winter include:

Dress in layers - it is better to wear three thin layers of clothing than one bulky outfit.

Avoid the wind and getting wet while outdoors - both promote loss of body heat.

Avoid alcohol, some medications and smoking - they diminish your blood flow in the cold.

Plan outdoor activities so that you can take breaks inside to warm up.

knew I had joined a special team of likeminded individuals," said Blaxland. "I am so thankful to still be a part of that team today. As I look to the future, I am looking forward to continuing to develop in my own professional life and helping my colleagues develop in theirs."
