Polish Junior League of Massachusetts launches Annual Scholarship Offering

REGION – The Polish Junior League of Massachusetts has announced its annual scholarship program for students of Polish heritage.
The League will be awarding scholarships to undergraduate students, and one scholarship will be granted to a graduate or returning student. In addition to the Undergraduate Scholarship program, there are two memorial scholarships, the Helen Weber Scholarship and the Josephine Karwoski Memorial Scholarship, each offering a focus on specific areas of study.
The scholarships and services provided by the Polish Junior League would not be possible without funds raised through the League's Annual Fashion Show and public donations. By contributing, individuals, businesses and corporations are helping to expand the level of awards and positively affect students.

Sheryl Mardeusz, president of the Polish Junior League says, “we are proud to continue helping graduate and undergraduate students throughout New England and are extremely pleased to be able to help even more individuals pursue their educational goals.”
To be eligible, applicants, in addition to being part of the Polish community, must have a permanent address in the Western Massachusetts counties of Berkshire, Franklin, Hampden or Hampshire. Applications can be received after January 2, 2026 with an application deadline of May 1, 2026 and scholarship criteria can be found on the League's web-

For 87 years, the Polish Junior League of Massachusetts, a nonprofit organization of women developed as civic leaders, has made a demonstrable impact on their community. True to its mission, the League has worked diligently to help students obtain the best education, so they may contribute to enhance the social, cultural and political fabric of civil society.

many different health related topics, but I specialize in Dementia Care, and most of my talks over the past three years have been dementia-related. I find it is the topic that is wanted the most, as Dementia and Alzheimer's disease touches so many people's lives,” Walters-Zucco said.
He also stressed bringing awareness to Alzheimer's Disease.
“Alzheimer's Disease is a public health crisis, and the numbers are expected to double or triple over the next 25 to 50 years. The aging U.S. population, especially Baby Boomers, means more people are developing Alzheimer's; numbers could hit 13 to 16 million by 2050,” Walters-Zucco said. “There is such a thirst for education and information regarding brain health, memory care, dementia and Alzheimer's. I provide usually three to four presentations a month, and we are going to be offering dementia support groups at many of our locations, including Chicopee, through 2026.”

Walters-Zucco added he's got more talks in the works this month and shared what seniors can do to support their brain health.
“My next two talks will be Jan. 14 at The Arbors at Stoneham, and then Jan. 16 for the 16 Acres Golden Agers in Springfield,” Walters-Zucco said. “Some of the best things people can do for brain health is socialize. Stay social and engaged, try new things and learn new things. We are never too old to learn something new. Stay active, exercise is so important for brain health, a daily walk can go a long way. Add as many antioxidants as possible to your diet, nice colorful plates with green leafy vegetables and berries, especially blueberries.”
Grammo shared with us why these discussions are so important and what other resources The Arbors offers.
“We just really love to provide resources for people in our community, not just within the walls of our building but also all around. We like to go out to new senior centers and provide education and resources that can help. That's really what we love to do to just help people and guide them on their journey,” Grammo said.

Grammo added the presentation was one of many things The Arbors likes to bring to the senior center.
“We do talks like this, we do fun things too. We'll come out to the senior center to run crafts, cooking demonstrations, that sort of thing. We have 9 assisted living communities in Massachusetts and Connecticut, the Arbors and the Ivy,” Grammo said. “That really is a place where people can move to get socialization, meals, housekeeping, and the support of terms of care that they need.”
Grammo also shared an upcoming event being hosted at The Arbors called, “Downsizing and Decluttering Seminar” on Jan. 29 at 5:30 p.m. This seminar will cover ways to downsize and prepare to move to senior living.

spouse's current benefit at death was more than the surviving spouse is already receiving. The surviving spouse receives the higher amount, instead of their own smaller Social Security retirement benefit.
But here is an important thing to know: Whenever any Social Security benefit (including a spousal or surviving spouse benefit) is claimed before the recipient's Full Retirement Age, the payment amount is permanently reduced, both spousal and survivor benefits do not reach maximum until the recipient's Full Retirement Age. And just to complete the picture for survivor benefits, a surviving spouse is also entitled to a one-time, lump-sum death benefit of $255 if their marital partner dies, in addition to any other benefit they are entitled to.
