Dr. Rosie's Science of Helping Animals program

GRANBY – Local author Jennifer Welborn (author of Dr. Rosie Helps the Animals) will be at Granby Free Public Library on May 28 at 4 p.m. for a hands-on workshop. This workshop will teach participants about natural treatments used to help animals. Participants will make their own hot/cold compresses, a working stethoscope, and aloe lotion. They will also learn how veterinarians stitch up cuts and use real veterinary instruments to take the vitals of a certified therapy dog. Children will receive mini vet kits and treatment sheets. Jennifer and Rozillia will demonstrate how to use the kit and sheet to diagnose and treat a stuffed animal.

Children should bring their own stuffed animals. Mini stuffed animals will be provided for those who do not have any.

Program for ages 6-12, sign-ups are required.

leaves, pinch off the flowers as they form. It is a great candidate for growing in mixed herb planters or individually in small pots.

Last but not least is my all-time favorite fragrant herb: Cinnamon Basil. Like its pesto-producing cousin, this variety can be used in cooking, mainly where its cinnamon scent would complement the cuisine, such as fruit salads or vinegars.

I have honestly never grown it for culinary use, but when some herbal renewal is needed it sure serves a purpose. One sniff will give me a burst of energy, enough to tackle that last garden chore. See for yourself!

Roberta McQuaid graduated from the Stockbridge School of Agriculture at the University of Massachusetts. For the last 34 years, she has held the position of staff horticulturist at Old Sturbridge Village. She enjoys growing food as well as flowers. Have a question for her? EV OVERVIEW from page 5

common place as gas stations are now

EV's emit only a fraction of the overall emissions of a comparable gas-powered vehicle over the vehicle's lifespan, even after including emissions from vehicle production. (66-69% per Sierra Club, 52-57% per Union of Concerned Scientists, 40% per EPA). These figures will continue to get better as the grid becomes cleaner, and the more miles that EVs are driven

Supporting EV use improves our local air quality because these vehicles do not produce any emissions when running fully on electricity
